

NEWSLETTER

September 2020

2/20

From the Chair

The committee have now met twice since our first newsletter. Final details about the January 2021 concert will remain fluid until later in the year but consideration is being given to an earlier start time of 4pm. In the meantime, our wind quartet have braved the blustery Lowestoft seafront to give an impromptu recital (see feature below).

Some of our string players are looking forward to getting together on Saturday 19th September (under strict social distancing guidelines!) to play through Elgar's Introduction & Allegro for Strings (see following YouTube link). It is hoped to record and video the session so this can be widely circulated.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=z4RJOZ ODs&feature=youtu.be>

Please note details below of our AGM on 26th September.

Michael Taylor, Chairman

~~~~~

Please forward this newsletter to interested family/friends and if they are happy to be contacted direct, please ask them to forward their email to Cecilia Metherell, Publicity Officer at:

dcmetherell2001@gmail.com

Waveney Wind Quintet – Christine Adelson writes:

The lockdown in March meant the end of all live music for amateur and professional musicians. Waveney Sinfonia have been performing to audiences in Lowestoft for over forty years and members are keen to return to playing and performing. On Thursday 27th August, despite the blustery weather, a wind quintet, from the orchestra (pictured), performed some of their repertoire in a shelter, just south of the Claremont Pier in Lowestoft. The impromptu entertainment was appreciated by the many visitors and passersby who stopped to listen and cheered them along.

<https://btcloud.bt.com/web/app/share/invite/cnrWtySL8f>

Annual General Meeting 2020

The AGM this year will be held on Saturday 26th September at 6pm. This date would have been our Saturday rehearsal day for the cancelled October concert. It will be held via Zoom and we hope as many of you as possible will be able to attend; this is your opportunity to ask any questions. The usual committee reports will be posted on the website by 19th September, so they can be perused beforehand. All committee members (details on our website) have agreed to stand for another year, but as always, we invite nominations by 12th September, if anyone considers a position should be replaced. Any nominations to be forwarded to our secretary, Catherine Ross, please. (c.m.ross@hotmail.co.uk)

The Zoom link for the meeting will be mailed to everyone nearer the time.